

Ratpack Archers
Newsletter
August 2016

If you are shooting up the woods on your own, can you please put your name, day and course on the dry-wipe board outside the shed. If we then get a message saying you have not returned home, we stand more of a chance finding you quickly if you have had an accident.

Meet our newest target – Bella Donna the wood nymph

Now that the summer holidays are in full swing, please keep an eye out for strangers in the woods. As you know we have recently had two targets stolen from the Green course.

You have recently received an email from Andy about replacing the tarpaulin that covers the seating area. We are going to put up a clear one, which should give more light into the area. The date is Saturday 20th August. Please let Andy know if you can help.

With the summer in full swing, the bracken growing and the trees in full leaf, we are constantly having to “tweak” the courses so that you can see the targets. Please make sure that you follow the arrows from one target to the next peg. When you arrive at the peg, have a good look around for targets, some will have changed since you last shot.