General News

All courses now start at the tea hut. When facing the tea hut the red start marker is to the left. The blue start marker is to the right. The arrow (yellow and green tape, will be replaced for green) for the green course is in the middle.

There is a NO ENTRY sign on the path to the old blue course.

The black arrow on white background is now the standard directional arrow on the blue and green courses (red will be done when it is relaid).

Challenger pegs are now black pegs with yellow/green tape with a hint of red spray paint to make them stand out.

Nick Lea has successfully completed his coaching course and will be leading the beginners lessons next year. Well done Nick!

Wessex Week

A big congratulations to Kim Lea and Phil Adams for winning their respective classes over the eight days, a massive achievement, despite the lovely August weather (rain, rain and rain).

South Wilts

Eight members of Ratpack went to South Wilts, coming away with four medals! Congratulations to:

Alan Jones

Phil Adams
